Report	The Global Village Club held the screening of Afghani short film 'Our Kind of Love' directed by Elham Ehsas and Azeem Bhati. The objective of this film screening was to expose students to another language (Pashto) as well as observe nuances of a different culture. The characters in the movie were also brought up in different environments, so the students were able to appreciate how those with different perspectives and upbringings communicate, behave and adjust to each other. After the screening, the film was discussed by the students who pointed out that certain myths were busted through their viewing and also appreciated the short film form. The activity was attended by 17 students
