Report	Mr. Piyush Kanjiya, highlighted the contribution of NCC to the economy through building skilled youth, promoting discipline, and supporting national development. NCC and Employment: NCC trains cadets in leadership, communication, and discipline—skills needed in both government and private sectors. Many cadets join the army, police, and civil services, helping reduce unemployment and strengthen the workforce. Financial Discipline: Camp experiences teach us to manage resources within a fixed budget. This encourages careful spending and responsible money habits, which are vital for the economy. Disaster Management: NCC cadets are trained in first aid and emergency response. During floods and other disasters, they assist in rescue efforts, reducing costs and improving public safety. Women Empowerment: NCC gives equal opportunities to girls in all activities, building strong women leaders. Many go on to serve in the defense sector, contributing to economic growth. Social Contributions: Through blood donation, cleanliness drives, and tree plantation, NCC cadets support public health, environment, and social welfare—creating long-term economic value. 13 students benefited from the session
