| Report | To mark World Mental Health Day in a meaningful way, the Cell for Promoting Inclusion and Diversity organised a screening of three short films – Identity, Different and the Perfect Egg. The programme was open to all college students and aimed to promote awareness about inclusion, diversity and the experiences of persons with different abilities. This was reflected in the films. Identity featured the typical high school student forced to wear a mask as they are afraid to be themselves out of fear of judgement. Different featured two youth who made judgements based on how they perceived things without understanding each others' situations. The Perfect Egg showed a father's endeavour to please his child by making the perfect egg.With the message, "Real Stories. Different Perspectives. A More Inclusive Tomorrow," the programme highlighted the role of cinema in fostering empathy, challenging perceptions and encouraging meaningful conversations about diversity and equality. Twenty-five students attended the film screening, organised by Ms Jonquil Sudhir. |
